

CHAPTER 13
1910–1912: MURPHY’S ALLOTMENT
SCHEDULE, PAAQAVI 1910–1912,
AND HOTVELA 1912

The final set of census data to be considered appears on records from 1910 to 1912: Matthew Murphy’s allotment schedule of December 1910 (Murphy, 1910), the 1910 Agency census of Paaqavi (with a few additions from 1911 and 1912; Bacabi, 1910, 1911, 1912), and the 1912 Agency census of Hotvela (Hotevilla, 1912). Murphy’s schedule is an important supplementary resource to the censuses of 1908 and 1910, confirming population aggregations after the second split, as well as individuals still living in 1910, some of whom are listed on Titiev’s census as having died before 1906.

Table 13.1 reproduces Murphy’s allotment schedule for Third Mesa (excluding allotment coordinates, for which see chap. 4, table 4.2). Ages registered for infants on the Hopi Indian Agency census of Orayvi in June 30, 1910 (Oraibi, 1910, not included herein) are typically one month younger than those on Murphy’s schedule. But many of Murphy’s ages are taken straight from the 1908 Orayvi census without alteration, and the names often follow identical sequences. However, birth additions and death deletions since 1908 are clearly evident. The allotment schedule itself was completed in December 1910 (see chap. 4). In Column 4, “Ora 1909” means those on the 1908 census who did not leave for Paaqavi or Hotvela in November 1909 (as indicated on the Orayvi 1908 census; see chap. 12), i.e., those who remained in Orayvi or Kiqötsmovi (ca. 344 people plus those born since November 1909 or not recorded on the 1908 census, which would suggest a total at Orayvi and Kiqötsmovi in 1910 of ca. 350). “Hot 1909” in Column 4 means that in November 1909 the person removed to Hotvela (15 people in total). “Paaq 1910” in this same column means that at the second split in 1909, the person went to Paaqavi and appears on the 1910 Paaqavi census (ca. 113 in total). Several individuals returned to Hotvela or remained in Orayvi in 1909 but removed to Paaqavi within the next two years, noted as “Hot 1909/Paaq 1912”; and “Ora 1910/Paaq 1911”), as noticed on the 1910 Orayvi census, and the 1911 and 1912 Paaqavi censuses. “Hot 1908” in Column 4 means that the person appears on the 1908 Hotvela census, and was not a returned Hostile; only 10 or 11 Hotvela people who had remained in Hotvela since 1906 accepted allotments. Several of those who returned to Hotvela from Orayvi in 1909 evidently refused allotments.

Murphy’s schedule appears generally more definitive than the 1910 Orayvi census, which basically took all those on the Orayvi census of 1908 and updated their ages (even those noted on the 1908 census as deceased, either in 1908 or between 1908 and early 1910, since the 1908 census contains annotations into 1910). Murphy would have had more concern about excluding deceased individuals than the Agency evidently did, since he could only make allotments to the living, and apparently deleted the deceased from his copy of the 1908 census.

Table 13.2 is from the first annual village census of Paaqavi in 1910 (annual village censuses continued at least into the 1930's), with supplementary individuals appended who were recorded on the 1911 and 1912 Paaqavi censuses (and who, from Murphy's allotment schedule appear in the same sequence of listings as those who removed to Paaqavi in 1909). Agency correspondence (e.g., see Whiteley, 1988a: 117) also indicates that Nasikwaptiwa (Badger) accompanied Kuwannömtiwa, the chief of Paaqavi, at meetings about allotment with the Agent in 1910, suggesting his family was living at the new village earlier than 1912.

Table 13.3 is the Hotvela census of 1912, recorded by Agency Superintendent Leo Crane. Three adults reappear here who had been absent from most of the censuses since 1892: Napkuyva, Qötswistiwa (brothers), and Humingöysi, their niece (Rabbit clan, according to Titiev; Rabbit/Tobacco according to White). Qötswistiwa was one of the Hostiles imprisoned at Fort Wingate in 1891 (table 9.1), as recorded by Mayhugh in 1892 ("M2," table 9.3); he was imprisoned again in 1906 (table 11.3), but does not appear on censuses either in 1900 or 1908. Napkuyva is listed on M2 in 1892 and on Orayvi 1900, but not on other censuses until 1912. Humingöysi is only recorded on M2, and is absent from other censuses until Hotvela 1912. In chapter 14's tables, these three individuals have been added to the summary lists of Hostiles in 1906.

An asterisk in place of a name means "Parents refused to give name (or sex)".

Leo Crane, Superintendent of the Hopi Agency, who took this census, noted at the end "This is the first census of the Hotevilla People, and owing to the general hostility with which these people view all Government matters, it has been impossible to report or estimate for Births or Deaths during this past fiscal year".
